This booklet was produced under the Invest Northern Neck program of the Macedonia Community Development Corporation, Inc. (MACorp, Inc.) under a Jessie Ball du Pont Fund grant. Invest Northern Neck worked in cooperation with Interracial Conversations of Lancaster and Northumberland Counties in the creation of this project and product.

MACorp is a 501(c)(3) organization whose mission is to develop and implement social, economic, and health programs; advocacy; and direct services for the Northern Neck Community. The duPont Fund finances collaborative community projects which promote sustainable economic growth by reducing structural and systemic barriers that restrict economic equality and opportunity.

MACorp, Inc. and its programs and partners make no representations in this product as to the accuracy of the information provided by businesses included in this booklet, nor do we guarantee services, products, or reliability of the businesses in this booklet.

Brenda C. Campbell
Embalmer and Funeral Directress

Serving the Northern Neck
for Over 100
Years

Three generations of the Campbell family have been providing funeral services and comfort to the residents of the Northern Neck for over 100 years. The company motto of "Where Friendship Dwells and Proves Itself" has shaped the lives of its owners and the business they have created.

William McKinley Campbell and his son, Robert Mac Campbell, established the Campbell Funeral Home in 1919. William and Robert were the first black undertakers and funeral home owners in Lancaster. William Campbell also owned a sawmill and blacksmith shop which provided caskets for the business. After extensive study and training, another son, Quentin DePernell Campbell, joined the firm as the first black licensed Embalmer and Funeral Director. Continuing the family tradition, Ruby Mac Campbell Morris, became the first black woman Funeral Directress in 1953. In 1965, the daughter of Quentin D. Campbell, Brenda E. Campbell, who was the first woman of any race to be a licensed Embalmer in the Northern Neck, joined the firm.

Ms. Brenda Campbell, a distinguished figure in local, state and national Funeral Director Associations, has been recognized as a "Living Legend in Funeral Services". Ms. Campbell is the current owner, Embalmer and Funeral Directress of Campbell Funeral Home.

She proudly says that her children are responsible for the company's growth and current operations. Veney says they are successful not only as a business, but as a family. She is blessed. GIVING BACK TO THE COMMUNITY BY TRAINING NEW CHEFS

A renovated Office Bistro opened in the Spring of 2020 offering a creative and delicious variety of salads, flatbreads, local seafood, and veggies. The Office Bistro not only provides an exceptional dining experience, but extends its culinary commitment to excellence by offering a unique Culinary Apprenticeship Program.

Part Owner and Chef Michael Knapik designed the program to provide the skills and expertise necessary to succeed in the food and beverage industry. Apprentices will learn health regulations, proper kitchen cleanliness, food preparation, restaurant strategies, and business management. After the 13 week “hands on, in the kitchen” program, a successful graduate will be offered a position at the Office Bistro.

Chef Knapik says the program is demanding and requires attention to detail. Applicants are evaluated on their work ethic, passion for cooking and food preparation, and character. Interested persons can apply by contacting the Office Bistro and completing an application including a resume, essay and references.

“The Pottery People”

CURRY AND CURRY, LLC is a Natural Stone Pottery business established by family patriarch and humanitarian, Joseph “Joe” Curry over 35 years ago.

Joe Curry rose from childhood poverty, segregation, and a career of crabbing local waters to become one of the area’s most influential community leaders. Joe believed that each of us has an obligation to help others rise. In addition to numerous other awards and recognition for his tireless humanitarianism, the Children’ Park in Kilmarnock was renamed the Joe Curry Memorial Park.

After their father’s death, Curry’s daughters Pam Curry Munford and Lynn Curry picked up the reigns of the business, added new products and business partners, and vowed to continue their father’s business ethic of excellent products and customer service. Curry and Curry offers pavers, fountains, birdbaths, statuary, planters and natural stone, river rock, blue stone, and gravel of all kinds. This year, they will feature a local artist who creates memorial stones for pets.

Most importantly for Pam and Lynn, they have embraced their father’s dedication to kindness, and humanitarianism. They look forward to continuing their father’s legacy of community service.

Julien Patterson and Terri Wesselman
2019 Lancaster Chamber of Commerce
Business Persons of the Year

Julien Patterson and Terri Wesselman retired to Lancaster County and lit an economic fire in the Northern Neck. Since 2012, they have opened four prosperous small businesses: Fore and Aft; The Front Porch Coffeehouse; The Office Bistro; and Objects, Art & More Gallery.

Patterson and Wesselman are the driving force behind the new Compass Entertainment Complex which will house a multi-screen movie theater and family entertainment center featuring a ropes course, rock climbing wall, go-karts, arcade, batting cages, mini golf, and a full service restaurant.

Julien Patterson often speaks to young people and aspiring entrepreneurs, and he provides them with a formula for business success based on personal integrity. He states “ First, do the right thing, stress the importance of valuing integrity and one’s moral reputation over the outward signs of success. Second, have the right values, and stress the necessity of putting those values into practice by adopting one’s own personal creed. Third, make the right decisions, emphasize staying true to your core values. ”

Through their tireless efforts, Patterson and Wesselman are proving their commitment to create jobs, stimulate the economy, and improve both business and social opportunities in our community.
